MAKE A DIFFERENCE EVERY DAY

The primary responsibility of every Burlington Police Officer is the protection of life and property. By virtue of the position, each officer fills a vital role in the well being of the community. Community Policing principals are at the core of how the Burlington Police Department operates. Focusing on the formation of relationships within the community and building partnerships to facilitate problem solving are of paramount importance to the BPD. Ultimately, while effective policing techniques and modern equipment are important factors in the suppression of crime, the driving force is, and always will be, the individual behind the badge, the police officer. The driving force could be you.
