Burlington Receives Excellence in Communications Award

BURLINGTON, NC—The City of Burlington was among 28 North Carolina governments to earn recognition in the 12th North Carolina City & County Communicators' (NC3C) Excellence in Communications Awards. The awards were presented Thursday, April 11, 2019 at NC3C's annual conference in Durham. A total of 248 entries were received.

The City of Burlington received first place in the state of North Carolina in the category "Service Delivery" for community outreach. Outreach efforts included building positive relationships, providing education on complex issues, and bridging language barriers.

The purpose of North Carolina City & County Communicators is to encourage professional development and networking among local governmental communications professionals. The organization was formed in March 2007 and is made up of government professional communicators from around the state. For more information about NC3C, visit the website, www.nc3c.com.
