Can You See Yourself As a Burlington Police Officer? Find Out May 11 Burlington Police Department Hosts Recruitment Open House

BURLINGTON, NC – The Burlington Police Department wants to know if you can see yourself in their uniform. Find out if serving with the Burlington Police Department is the right fit for you at the Burlington Police Department Recruitment Open House on May 11, 2019.

The open house will take place 10:00am – 1:00pm at the Burlington Police Department (267 West Front Street, Burlington). Potential recruits will gain insight into what it is like to be a Burlington Police officer. Potential recruits can watch demonstrations of the BPD K9 Unit, Special Response Team, Motorcycle Unit, and of the Police Officers Physical Agility Test. Recruits will receive guided station tours and have opportunities to discuss benefit packages and the application process, one-on-one, with a Human Resources staff member.

The Burlington Police Department welcomes college seniors preparing for full-time employment, students currently enrolled in a Basic Law Enforcement Training program, professionals considering a career change, and sworn Law Enforcement Officers interested in making a move to a different agency. The Burlington Police Department sponsors a limited number of cadets for the Basic Law Enforcement Training program.
