City of Burlington Announces Newly appointed Inspections Director

BURLINGTON, NC— The City of Burlington is pleased to announce that Russell Williams was appointed Director of Inspections for the City of Burlington effective January 11, 2021.

Williams brings a broad base of knowledge and experience in local government building inspections to the City. He also worked in the private sector where he conducted mechanical, electrical and fire alarm design work on vertical construction projects for an engineering firm.

Williams holds a bachelor's degree in Architectural Engineering from North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University and has NC Standard Level III Inspection Certificates in building, electrical, mechanical, plumbing and fire. He also has his NC Standard Inspection Instructor Certificate which he uses as a Building Trade Instructor at Alamance Community College. Williams is also a Licensed General Contractor as well as a Licensed Electrical Contractor.
