City of Burlington and County-Wide Partners Release Business Resource Website

BURLINGTON, NC – In response to the COVID-19 disaster, the City of Burlington’s Economic Development department along with partners across Alamance County have created a website to serve as a collective resource for all businesses and employees in Alamance County.

This website is named AlamanceStrong.com and is designed to be a repository of all the resources from local, state, and federal agencies and nonprofits that offer grants, loans, and other funds to businesses and employees affected by this crisis. The partner agencies in this initiative understand that businesses do not always know who to call when seeking assistance, which is why a collective resource was made and every agency included can act as a contact for businesses seeking help.

Businesses are encouraged to engage with AlamanceStrong.com’s feedback and blog functions and to share this resource on social media networks with the hashtag #AlamanceStrong to identify stories, issues and successes in our community.

The below partners are organizations committed to helping Alamance County sustain and grow through this crisis and time of uncertainty:

- Alamance Chamber
- Alamance United Way
- Alamance Comm. College
- Burlington-Alamance Airport
- Burlington Downtown Corporation
- City of Burlington
- City of Graham
- City of Mebane
- Destination Downtown Mebane
- Elon University
- Mebane Business Association
- NC SBTDC
- Saxapahaw Rivermill Village
- Town of Elon
- Visit Alamance

The City of Burlington or any of its partners can act as your point of contact no matter where you live here in Alamance County – there is no wrong door for service. Please reach out if your business is experiencing hardship during this crisis, we are all here to help our community stay #AlamanceStrong.

For questions please contact Peter Bishop at 336-222-5147 or pbishop@BurlingtonNC.gov.
