City of Burlington Modifies State of Emergency

BURLINGTON, NC—

Following the guidance of the North Carolina Department and Health and Human Services and Governor Cooper, the City of Burlington is modifying its State of Emergency. As North Carolina continues to flatten the curve and cautiously moves into a modified Phase 2 of reopening, the City is allowing some provisions of its State of Emergency to expire and relaxing another. The framework of the State of Emergency remains in place to allow City administration to respond quickly should changing conditions necessitate.

Beginning at 5:00pm on May 22, 2020, the City will modify its State of Emergency as follows:

1. Restrictions will expire for Car Washes in the City of Burlington that prevented employees from cleaning the inside of customers cars. Car Washes should now operate according to the Governor's Executive Order 141.
2. Restrictions will expire for the number of individuals allowed at funerals and burials. All such gatherings should now adhere Governor's Executive Order 141.
3. Restrictions will expire to the number of individuals allowed in social gatherings. All such gatherings should now adhere Governor's Executive Order 141.
4. Rachel language

The City will maintain provisions pertaining to City Administration and operations that allow for flexibility for hours of operations and allow employees to telework.
